Idaho Wine – Its Time Has Come
Known for its breathtaking wilderness and, perhaps more famously, for its potatoes, Idaho is home to a fast-growing wine industry and fantastic wines. Nestled between the Rocky Mountains and the Snake River, Idaho wine regions nurture the grapes with a moderate climate, limited precipitation, and a consistent growing season, which adds complexity to the grapes.

The characteristically cold winters allow vines to go dormant gradually while ridding the plants of bugs and discouraging disease. A combination of cold nights and hot days serves to balance acids and sugars. The limited amount of rainfall allows growers to control water through irrigation.

Idaho is known for growing and producing classic varieties including Syrah, Merlot, Riesling and Chardonnay, along with more adventurous wines such as Tempranillo and Malbec.
Ancient Lake Idaho is formed, stretching 200 miles from eastern Oregon to Twin Falls.

Idaho’s WINE ROOTS

Idaho is considered, by some, part of the new frontier of wine-growing areas of the United States. However, some of the first grapes planted in the Pacific Northwest were actually grown in Lewiston in the 1860s.

1865

An article dated September 5, 1865, in the Idaho Statesman reported that a vineyard of Royal Muscadine cuttings had been planted early in the spring of the previous year (1864) and it had survived the winter well and was beginning to produce grapes in Lewiston.

1919

Prohibition halts the wine industry across the country with the 18th Amendment.

The Snake River Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA), established on April 9, 2007, encompasses 8,263 square miles with 1,125 acres planted. Overlaying the ancient Lake Idaho, the shoreline creates its natural boundaries. The result is a distinctive wine growing region whose ancient volcanic sediment has bestowed fertile, well-draining soil that gives growers better control throughout the growing process.

The Lewis-Clark Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA), established on May 20, 2016, encompasses 479 square miles with more than 85 vineyard acres currently planted. Lewis-Clark Valley AVA is made up of steep canyons of the Clearwater and mid-Snake Rivers and their tributaries.

The Lewis-Clark Valley AVA is home to premium vines and award-winning wines.

The Eagle Foothills American Viticultural Area (AVA), established on December 28, 2015, encompasses 49,815 acres with 90 acres planted currently. This sub-AVA of the larger Snake River Valley AVA is the only one located completely within the state of Idaho. Nestled in the foothills north of Eagle, Idaho, the slope and aspect of the Eagle Foothills play an important role in sunlight reception, cold air drainage, frost and wind protection.

The Eagle Foothills Grape Growers Association’s purpose is to promote the interests of the local wine grape-growing industry with a focus on the Eagle Foothills AVA.

CEDAR DRAW CIDER
Operated out of their three-acre family farm, Cedar Draw Cider is a unique nano-cidery offering a wide variety of ciders ranging from bone-dry to semi-sweet, all perfectly balanced. They source local ingredients as often as possible, including fruit from their own orchard. Their tasting room is open two days a week and offers charming indoor and outdoor seating.

CIDER SISTERS CIDER
Cider Sisters is a small-batch, seasonal cidery using fresh apple juice and yeast to make traditional European style ciders. Private tastings are available by appointment.

HIGHPOINT CIDER
Founded by two brothers in the heart of the Tetons, Highpoint Cider pushes the envelope by crafting drinkable, small-batch, modern ciders that are low in sugar, balanced, and refreshing. The perfect pairing after a day of adventure in the mountains!

MERIWETHER CIDER CO.
Meriwether Cider is an award-winning family-owned cidery with a taproom in Garden City and a Cider House in Downtown Boise with 20 taps of cider from around the world.

STACK ROCK CIDERY AT PEACEFUL BELLY FARM
They love apples, and they love cider. Their cider brewer is Clay Erskine; he is also the farmer at Peaceful Belly. Idaho is a wonderful climate to grow apples, and cider has a long tradition in the U.S. They are giddy to be part of the cider story.
